MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS.

Railroad Bonds Weak, Grand Rapids & Indlana Fives Losing 2 Per Cent. NEW YORK, June 24.—Money on call was easy, ranging from 12 to 212 per cent., the last loan being made at 212, closing offered

Et 212 Prime mercantile paper, 512@7 per cent. Sterling exchange was quiet but strong at $4.8614 for sixty-day bills and $4.8834 for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 85,718 shares, including the following: Atchison, 4,100; Louisville & Nashville, 4,000; North American, 8,289; St. Paul, 26,450; Union Pacitic, 4,450.

Wall street for the present seems as near being asleep as it is possible for the money center of the continent to be, and the stock market reflects the uncertainties in the situation by the most intense dullness in transactions and stagnation in the fluctustions. The trading element in the market. as is usual in times of dullness, favors the "bear" side for a turn, and makes efforts to break prices every time a gold shipment is announced, but the demonstration reaches over little ground and soon dies away. The "short" interest, however, is constantly augmented by these operations, and the confidence of holders is shown only by the To-day only St. Paul and Chicago Gas were traded in to any material extent, the latter and Sugar Refineries were also the only ones to show any material change in prices during the session, while the speculation in silver certificates seemed to have come to an untimely end, the supporters of the movement evidently having chosen the wrong time to start a boom in the metal. A slow but steady de-preciation went on in it, while the final change was not of special importance. The opening of the market was dull and steady, and the covering of "shorts" served togive a firm tone to the early trading, but no material change in quotations was made, and the dullness for the time of the day was most excessive. The gold shipments later reversed the position of the traders on the market, and tresh lines of "shorts" were put out, especially in Rock Island, Union Pacific, St. Paul, and Chicago Gas, but only in the first named was there any movement of importance, its loss being 118 per cent. to 7078, against 72 per cent. This, however, was the only movement of importance during the session, and the later trading fell away into the same conditions that marked the forenoon. No rally occurred and the close was dull and rather heavy, generally at a shade under the opening prices. The final changes show some irregularity, but small losses are most numerous and Rock Island and Pacific Mail are each down 1 per cent. Railroad bonds presented the same feat-ures usual of late and $462,000 makes up the total of the transactions for the day. The tone was generally steady and the usual unimportant changes, or an entire lack of change, was the rule. Among the inactive bonds Grand Rapids & Indiana fives lost per cent., at 82, while Omaha & St. Louis Government bonds have been dull and heavy. State bonds have been entirely neglected. Closing quotations were:

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Corn Practically Demoralized by Reason of Decline in Wheat

CHICAGO, June 24.-Wheat was apparently friendless to-day. To be sure Pardridge was understood to have bought about 400,000 bushels around the opening. while other "shorts" took some, lending the market an appearance of strength. For a time there was not sufficient good position to justify an expectation of higher prices; in fact, the news of the day was exceedingly bearish. The early purchases were not with the expectation of profits from an advance, but for the purpose of evening up deals. The "shorts" continued to fear the temptation offered in July within the last few days. In view of the light stock of contract on hand, Pardridge's purchases to-day are said to have put his trades on an even the winter-wheat belt in this country and Europe, lower cables, depressed domestic markets and a general bearish feeling.

Harvest was reported going on vigorously. footing. The bearish news consisted and the new wheat was already reaching some of the more Southern and Southwestern markets. Indian and Russian wheat shipments were heavy. The Farmers' Review, in its summary of the situation, Pork, $10.3712. Lard dull at 5.80c. Dryand the new wheat was already reaching some of the more Southern and Southwestshipments were heavy. The Farmers' Review, in its summary of the situation, gave the condition of winter wheat as exceptionally good and spring very promis-ing. Secretary Mohler, of Kansas, wired that his dispatches showed no material change in wheat in that State by late rain. Late Liverpool quoted weaker markets there, decline, and Berlin was lower, with Paris from 20 to 30 centimes decline. About the only item that was at all bullish was Bradstreet's report, showing a decrease of 1,616,000 bushels in the visible supply east of the Rocky mountains, with an increase of 387,000 bushels west of that range. Having evened up their deals in the dangerous month, the shorts were ready for scalping trades and proceeded to offer selected lots on a descending scale, while the "longs" were with them in an effort to get rid of their holdings. The result was a very weak and declining market. July opened at 98@934c. sold up to 935sc, reacted to 923sc, grew steady for a time but weakened again, selling off to 92c, and closed at 921sc. The weather was the leading factor in determining values in corn as in wheat. Thus while it was clear and warm in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, where the wheat harvest is in progress, it was showery in Iowa, Nebraska and other sections where the moisture will be of advantage to the corn crop.
This encouraged "short" selling and the later weakness in wheat assisted in the downward movement in corn. July opened at 54c, against 541sc at the close yesterday. There was little or no demand, but the selling was persistent and aggressive almost from the start. "Long" corn was sacrificed freely. "Short" selling was on an enormous scale and the execution of stop-loss orders completed the demoralization. After touching 541se the decline began, and with one or two minor reactions dropped to 531sc. Then there was a rally to 5312c, and at the close the price was 533c. Oats had a strong start, due to the fact that only eighty-four cars were received where 130 had been expected. July sold early at 354@36c, then broke in sympathy with corn and sold off to 35c, reacted to peared to move at little better than yester3514c, again weakened and closed at the day, but there was no hurry on the part of bottom price of the day.

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Another Good Day on the Wholesale Streets, with Steady Prices Prevailing. INDIANAPOLIS, June 24,-Contrary to expectations trade on the wholesale streets continues quite active. Usually, as a heated term comes on like the one of the last few days trade drags somewhat until it reaches a summer duliness, but this is not the case this year, and the business of June bids fair to considerably exceed that of June, 1890. Prices as a rule are steady in tone, but in case of changes it is likely to be to a lower level yet. Ponltry is 12c higher per pound than last week. Eggs and choice butter are firm at quotations. Coming to fruits and vegetables, aside from Irish potatoes, prices rule weak on increasing receipts. The provision market of late, in a jobbing way, has been active. Prices on some descriptions of hog products are easier. Grocers speak of trade as being good for June. Coffees and sugars are both easy in tone. Canned goods begin to attract some attention, and indications are that the next twelve months canued goods will be sold considerably lower than in the year just closed.

The local market is without marked change, prices being about the same as on Tuesday. But little is doing in either cereal. Track bids to-day ranged as follows:

Wheat-No. 2 red. 96c; No. 3 red. 90@93c; rejected, 75@85c; unmerchantable, 60@70c; Corn—No. 1 white, 62½c; No. 2 white, 60½c; white mixed, 56½c; No. 3 white, 60c for one coler; No. 2 yellow, 57c; No. 3 yellow, 56½c; No. 2 mixed, 56½c; No. 3 mixed, 56c; sound ear, 54c. Window Garden Plants.

The Prairie Farmer. These are relegated to the background so far as being in a window is concerned in summer, and upon their treatment during the summer depends their real value in the winter, when they are wanted to do duty again. Of the soft-wooded plants, as they are called, including mostly such kinds as are bedded out in the flower garden in summer, these serve a good purpose there, and will be best not to depend on for winter flowering. A few cuttings or young plants grown along in pots out of doors make the best for windows in the fall, when they should be ready to come into full flower.

The permanent plants, like palms, aza-leas, camellias, India rubber tree, and all similar, are better out of doors in summer for three months, as they get well cleaned by the heavy rains. The calls lily may be allowed to dry off until fall, when it may he re-potted and started into fresh growth. Some plant them out in the free ground. and this is a good way to increase the stock, as they make a good growth along towards the fall.

Now is a good time to go into the woods or by-ways and take up a lot of native ferns and plant in some shady nook no good for the growth of common flowering plants. With a trowel they are easily lifted, and if planted carefully grow readily, and although having no showy flower their peculiar growth and pleasant green are always an attraction. Window boxes, hanging baskets and other similar decorative arrangements if properly planted and the right kind of plants selected, need now but one operation to secure success, and that is watering. Except in rainy spells such things when growing freely very often suffer from lack of water. They may be watered every day. If this watering does not soak the whole mass of soil and roots the bottom often is dust dry while the top looks wet. This gives an enfeebled growth. Water abundantly when growth is vigorous, and it will keep so all the summer. Let this be neglected, the growth dwindles and flowering ceases, so that it is hard to work up again. Plants in a cool atmosphere need little water; plants in a hot one and growing fast need abundance.
This is good for all kinds; even the cacti may do well without water in winter but glories in a full supply in summer weather.
